ROCTEST OPENS AN OFFICE IN HONG KONG

QUEBEC, QC — November 29, 2005 — Roctest Ltd (TSX: RTT) is strengthening its position in Asia by hiring two sales directors who will be based in the new Roctest/FISO's representative office in Hong Kong. Mr. John Koh and Mr. Mike Wong were appointed as Director of Sales - ASIA for FISO and Roctest respectively.

This new initiative will allow the Roctest group to have a permanent physical presence in a territory where its products have experienced the fastest growth over the last two years. This completes the international expansion plan started a year ago during which Roctest/FISO opened new offices in San Jose (United States), in Paris (France), and now in Hong Kong.

Mr. Koh (john.koh@fiso.com) and Mr. Wong (mwong@roctest.com) bring years of experience of Sales and business development in similar high tech sectors such as semiconductors and electronics components. "Asia is the region with the greatest potential for rapid growth for our geotechnical and fiber optic products. Although Roctest has already been present in Asia for the past 40 years with numerous projects, much more can be accomplished. We are very confident this new local organisation will significantly enhance support to our Asian customers and Asian distribution networks with the objective of seizing new emerging business opportunities, » said François Cordeau, President and Chief Executive Officer at Roctest.
